2022

TERMS & CONDITIONS

To be signed and returned

For the 8th consecutive year, in 2022 the Rencontres de la photographie is giving an award to assist in the publication of a dummy book. Endowed with a €25,000 production grant, the new award is open to all professional photographers and artists using photography who propose an unpublished dummy book. Experimental and innovative editorial forms will receive special attention.

The submission deadline is Friday, May 13, 2022.

An international jury will choose the winner.

The award-winning dummy book of 2022 and the shortlisted entries will be exhibited at the Rencontres d'Arles this summer.

With support from the Luma Foundation.

ENDOWMENT

The award comes with a €25,000 production grant including €3,000 of royalties, for the author or authors. This sum is intended exclusively for the production of the project presented. The Rencontres d'Arles, in collaboration with the chosen publisher, will ensure the project's editorial and financial follow-up.

TERMS OF PARTICIPATION

→ The award is open to all professional photographers and artists using photography of all ages and nationalities.

→ Their work must have appeared in group and/or solo shows and publications that have gained them national or international recognition.

→ The submission can be individual or collective.

→ Only one project may be submitted. It must be unpublished and not under contract to any publisher.

→ Self-published projects (without an ISBN number) that have not yet been disseminated are eligible.

→ The project submitted must be as close as possible to its final version, including the form and materials (type of paper, etc.), and technically feasible within a traditional book production framework.

→ The project must be financially feasible within the production budget allocated by the award.

MEANS OF SUBMISSION

Participation in the LUMA Rencontres Dummy Book Award Arles 2022 is free. The project must be submitted both physically and online.

Incomplete dossiers will not be considered.

The submission dossiers may be written in French or English (except the submission form, which must be in English only). The dummy will be submitted in its original language.

SHORTLISTING

The Rencontres d'Arles will shortlist 20-25 entries. A jury (now being formed) will meet in May to choose the winner, whose name will be announced during the festival's opening week (the exact date will be announced later). The jury will consider the project's editorial quality and its technical and financial feasibility. The shortlisted artists and the winner will be contacted individually by e-mail. The Rencontres will invite the winner to the festival's opening week, which takes place from July 4 to 10, 2022. S/he agrees not to reveal anything about winning the award before the official announcement during opening week.

PRESENTATION OF THE SHORTLISTED PROJECTS

The shortlisted projects will be exhibited from July 4 to September 25, 2022 as part of the Rencontres d'Arles official program and online, in whole or in part, on the Rencontres d'Arles website, for one year after the participant's consent.

I authorize the publication in whole of my dummy for one year.

I authorize the publication in part of my dummy for one year.

I do not authorize the publication, in whole or in part, of my dummy book.

- The publisher will be chosen based on the type of project proposed and in consultation with the winner.
- Production of the book will begin in late 2022/early 2023.
- In consultation with the winner, the Rencontres d'Arles and the publisher reserve the right to adapt the book to technical and financial production requirements.
- In this framework, the artist agrees to provide her/his source files and attend working meetings at the request of the Rencontres d'Arles and the chosen publisher.
- The number of copies will directly depend on the type of project presented.
- The selected publisher will sell and distribute the book in co-production with the Rencontres d'Arles. The publisher will set the sales price in consultation with the Rencontres d'Arles.
- In the event of a co-publication, the Rencontres d'Arles will divide the copies among the various publishers.
- The artist will receive a number of copies based on the type of project produced.
- The LUMA Foundation, the award's patron, will receive 100 copies of the published work.
- The LUMA Foundation and Rencontres d'Arles logos will appear on the work.
- The published work will be officially presented at the 2023 Rencontres d'Arles.

RIGHTS & RESPONSIBILITIES

The Rencontres d'Arles promises to handle the dummies received and exhibited with utmost care. However, the Rencontres d'Arles cannot be held responsible for any damage that may occur during the public's consultation of the dummies. This contract is subject to French law. Disputes that may arise between the Parties over its execution or interpretation will be brought before the competent jurisdiction if an out-of-court settlement cannot be found.

MISCELLANEOUS

Any submission that is incomplete or received by the Rencontres d'Arles after the deadline will not be considered.

Note on the return of non-shortlisted submissions:

The Rencontres d'Arles does not return dossiers received from outside France. The submission dossier must include a stamped, self-addressed return envelope.

Dossiers may be retrieved at the festival's office at 34 rue du Dr Fanton in Arles until the end of September 2022.

Dossiers not retrieved by then will no longer be available.
